Information Requisition is the Core of Guideline-Based Medical Care: Which Information is Needed for Whom?

Theresia Gschwandtner

1. Identification of different users: knowledge engineers, physicians, nurses, and especially patients!

2. Description of tasks: steps that are necessary in modeling a clinical practice guideline into a computer executable model

3. Identification of clinical information needs: physicians, nurses, and especially patients have different information needs!